The underlying software, in particular the Brandy360 system, is the property and intellectual creation of Data Venture Sp. z o.o., based in Poznań, which acts as the legitimate developer and licensor of the platform. The Supplier holds a valid usage license and is authorized to offer the PetFood Index within the scope of this license.

2. The Customer is granted a non-exclusive, non-transferable license to use the platform and its contents for the duration of the Agreement.
